Chicago, Aug. 14—(UP)—The death of Mrs. Florence (Peggy O'Neil) Rowland, pretty wife of a Bridewell prisoner, after a drinking party in her apartment, was laid by police today to the accidental discharge of a revolver, which fell to the ground as she handed it to Harold Thompson. HOME OF ARTIST
WEST OF AMBOY
ONCE WAS TAVERN

Herbert Conner Has Painted Picture Of Dutcher Residence

Herbert Conner, well known artist and painter residing west of Amboy, was in Dixon yesterday afternoon visiting with friends and acquaintances. Mr. Conner has recently completed an exceptionally beautiful canvas, an exterior view of the old Dutcher property in which the artist and his wife have made their home for many years. The Dutcher property is located near the Rockford bridge which spans Green River.

Mr. Conner is authority for the statement that the building is thought to be 91 years old. In its original state it served as a way-side tavern to the weary traveler who passed through what was then the thriving village of Shellburn. This was before Amboy was laid out and at a time when the Illinois Central was being routed through Lee county west of Amboy. At places the old grade can still be seen.

Lincoln Stopped There

Abraham Lincoln stopped at the Dutcher home in 1832 after having been sworn in as captain of the government forces in the Black Hawk war in this city. With the abandonment of the railroad building plans through the village of Shellburn, Amboy sprung up and the once thriving town a few miles west gradually gave way to the newer town site. Today the Dutcher house is all that remains to mark the once thriving village in Lee county.

In the large oil painting of the Dutcher property, Mr. Conner chose a season of the year when the flowers were in bloom and the trees fully leaved. It is his latest painting and has been admired by many Dixonites who are always welcome at the artist's home.

Another beautiful painting of recent date, historic in theme, is Artist Conner's "The Last of the Illini." The painter visited the bluffs overlooking the Illinois river near Starved Rock where he selected the setting for his subject. The painting shows an Illini Indian brave, seated on a rock and scanning the Illinois river hills and valleys, the last of his race viewing the development which accomplished the coming of the whites to the central west. These two recent oils are among the most attractive of the Mr. Conner's large collection.

Passed 80th Milestone

Mr. Conner recently celebrated his eightieth birthday anniversary and received the following resolutions from the Lee County Farm Bureau executive committee:

Whereas, Our good friend Herbert Conner has long been a staunch Farm Bureau booster, and,

Whereas, August 5th, 1931, is our friends 80th birthday;

Therefore, be it resolved: By the Lee County Farm Bureau, executive committee at its August meeting, that a vote of good will and greetings be extended to Mr. Conner by

4 sheets of music for $1.00 at Kennedy's Dollar Day. 11

YOUR CHILDREN

By Olive Roberts Barton
GIVEN BY NEA SERVICE INC.

This list may be a guide to those who expect fall babies. On it are most of the fundamentals. You can change the figures to suit yourself, a little less of these, a little more of those, but it is something to go by. The weight of flannels must be left to you too, as climate must decide whether they are to be wool, wool mixture, or cotton. All except the bands. They must always have some wool in them.

Four "first" bands—torn white flannel strips 6 by 20 inches. Three knitted bands with shoulder straps to use later. Three knitted shirts. Three flannel petticoats. Four nightgowns, soft, flannelette or soft cotton.

Seven plain soft slips or dresses, woolen mixture or cotton. Two dozen diapers—birdseye cotton, 22 inches square. Two dozen diapers—birdseye cotton, 26 inches square. One light weight woolen cloak for fall, a heavier one for winter. One soft woolen hood, silk-lined. Two small sacks. About three tiny blankets. Six muslin bassinette sheets. One big soft absorbent bath-apron of outing flannel.

For Baby's Toilet Service
That is the regular layette. Any article may be increased in number. But, of course, there are other things to provide for the tray or basket in which the daily toilet service is kept.

Six old soft linen towels. Six wash cloths—very soft cheese cloth. One brush—soft. One talcum (pure powder). One tube of vaseline. One cake pure soap. Three sizes safety pins. Small box absorbent cotton. Bottle boric acid solution. (Boric solution is not the daily eyewash it used to be, but keep it on hand.)

The furnishings for the nursery may be chosen according to taste, means, room and ingenuity. Fortunately is the baby who can have his own little place to himself, with pink and blue enameled creations to hold himself and his clothes, but a baby sleeps as soundly in a clean new clothes basket as he does in an invalid bed. The basket can be set on a safe chair or table away from drafts.

He won't need a perambulator at first, but the August sales are not to be disregarded and it isn't bad business to buy now.

A rubber sheet will protect the mattress, but it gets cold and wet. Put a home-made pad of quilted cheese-cloth and cotton-batting between it and the under sheet. Three or four of these are always useful, for they can be washed and aired; they save the mattress and are so comfortable and easy to make. I'd have one handy for the buggy, too.

Announce Engagement Of Miss Trottnow
Last evening Mrs. Ethel Trottnow entertained a group of friends at three tables of bridge, at which time she announced the engagement of her daughter, Miss Josephine Trottnow, to Elmer F. Pettit, of Rockford, formerly of Dixon, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jules Pettit. Mrs. George Aschenbrenner, Jr., received the favor for high honors at bridge and Miss Mildred Pettit received the favor for second honors. Decorations for the happy affair were in pink and green, prettily carried out in the decorations for the tempting supper which was served. During the second course the announcement of the approaching marriage was made in a most unique manner. English walnuts had been opened, their contents removed and a slip of paper with the names of Mr. Pettit and Miss Trottnow thereon, was folded and placed inside, and the halves nicely fitted together again. Each nut was wrapped in pink or green tissue paper as favors. All present then wished Miss Trottnow every happiness in advance. The date of the wedding is not yet set, but it will be in the future. Miss Trottnow, a popular girl, has been one of the efficient teachers of Woodworth school, in the fourth grade. Mr. Pettit is one of the valued employees in the J. I. Case Co., an expert pattern maker and foreman. The many friends of both young people wish them joy in advance on receipt of the announcement.

GOOD THOUGHTS
Kind words produce their own image in men's souls, and a beautiful image it is. We have not yet begun to use kind words in such abundance as they ought to be used.

Wise sayings often fall on barren ground; but a kind word is never thrown away.

Arthur Helps.

There is no man so strong he cannot be won by gentleness. The power of affection is the most subtle force in the world, and interwoven in the lives of men whether they be among the greatest or the most humble.

Lincoln.

The meaning of kindness is as plain to the little child as to the adult man or woman; for it is as universal as love itself. If there be much in the world of men today to be deplored, there is yet a great cause for gratitude in the undoubted fact that everywhere there is to be found the Christly quality of kindness, revealing to all mankind the possibility of the kingdom of heaven at hand.

The Christian Science Sentinel.

For the mountains shall depart and the hills be removed; but thy kindness shall not depart from thee; neither shall the covenant of my peace be removed, saith the Lord that hath mercy on thee.

Isaiah 45.

FRANKLIN GROVE ASSEMBLY
All the afternoon programs given at the camp have been well supported and each has been a high order. Last Sunday about 500 people heard Prof. Lyons read "Green Pastures," and none can forget the deep impressions made. The final afternoon service for the season will be next Sunday, the 16th. It will be a great musical program given by singers and musicians from many of the surrounding cities. There will be solos, duets, quartets, and two big choruses. One is to be "The Lost Chord" by Sullivan; and the other will be "Fear Not, Ye O Israel" by Spicker. Dixon Symphony Orchestra will give two numbers.

The impression seems to be quite general that this year's new venture has been very much worth while and plans are already started to make next year's a larger and more extended series. Very much credit is to be given the Dist. Supt., Dr. Hammitt, for this success.

Corner Third and Madison
B. C. Whitmore, pastor
Ten o'clock is the hour for Sunday school at the Brethren church, and the adult lesson is, "Sowing and Reaping," a lesson on temperance. The idea of the lesson is that if one sows beans they will not reap corn. Some think that there is a period in life when it is necessary to sow "wild oats," but they usually complain much later in life when the harvest is wild oats also. "Be sure your sins will find you out." Then again a good harvest means much more than what was sown. That is true of the wild oats harvest as well as any other. The sermon for the morning service will be, "The Reaction of Sin." Sin does have a "backfire." Shall we study these questions together? You are cordially invited.

The Brethren minister will have charge of the service at the State Colony hospital at 3 o'clock, and will speak at the union services at the Christian church at 7:30.

CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH

LONG TERM CREDIT.

About a decade ago the automobile industry was in a bad way. The market was dwindling. No one was buying. Everyone who could afford to buy an auto had one, and the millions of people who wanted cars had neither cash nor credit to buy them.

The auto makers, thereupon, went out and turned these millions into automobile buyers by adopting a courageous new system of long-term credit. Depression left the industry, to return only when boom times led the manufacturers to over-extend even this new and enlarged market.

In the current issue of the Magazine of Wall Street, Charles Benedict proposes that American producers of raw materials take a leaf from the auto industry's book and create new markets for themselves—not at home, this time, but overseas.

He makes a good case for his proposal. Poland, for example, needs raw cotton badly but lacks the credit with which to buy it; why, he asks, should not an American cotton growers' co-operative group propose to deliver to Poland a year's supply of cotton at the current market price, under terms by which payment could be made in one to 10 or even 20 years?

What is true of Poland is true of China. Mr. Benedict predicts that this action would boost cotton prices, open new markets and bring prosperity back to the cotton grower.

The same thing, he adds, could be done with other raw materials such as wheat, copper and corn. In the end he believes that the risks inherent in such a process would be overcome and the way back to world prosperity would be found.

The whole program seems sound. The most striking thing about the present depression is that it is caused, not by scarcity, but by surpluses. There exist plenty of potential customers for the surplus goods of the earth. The one great problem is to make it possible for them to buy.

THE FAITH IN FORCE.

Sir Roger Keyes, admiral of the British fleet and commander of the Portsmouth Naval Station, declares that reduction of the British navy as a step towards peace is nothing but "blind folly."

Sir Roger explains that treaties, pacts and leagues are all very well in their way, but that they must be backed by powerful armaments or they mean nothing. Trusting in such methods without a force behind, he adds, would be like trusting in laws without a police force to back them.

Probably it would be asking too much to expect admirals to give up their old faith in force as a means of settling human disagreements. But the rest of us, at least need not listen. If the World War proved anything, it proved the utter futility of relying on force in international affairs. If the admirals cannot perceive that lesson the ordinary citizen ought to be able to.

NO PLACE FOR TRUCKS.

The Ohio Public Utilities Commission recently took an action which should win it the gratitude of motorists all over the country. It denied two trucking firms the right to operate over the main lake shore highway—U. S. 20—which connects the middle west with the east, on the ground that that highway holds all the traffic it can handle already.

It might be a good thing if other official bodies would copy this ruling. After all, the highways were paved primarily for the pleasure car motorist. Paying passengers and freight were transported about the country very well before motor bus and truck were invented, and the railroads are far from over-burdened with business.

When traffic on any highway gets too heavy for comfort, it is time to cut down the number of commercial vehicles that use it.

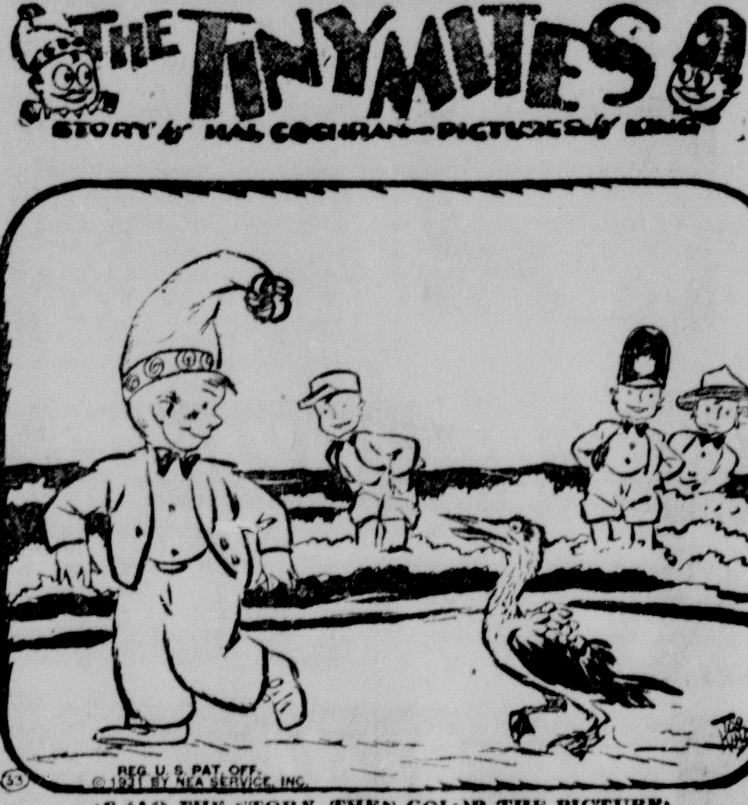

Not only is there too much experimentation done with education, but I think that many things are taught in schools that should be taught in the home.—Dr. Erna Patzelt, professor of history at the University of Vienna.

Young people today seem to have a smattering of many things, but they never seem to be thoroughly grounded in any one subject.—Dr. Erna Patzelt, University of Vienna, Austria.

To think of preparedness for war as the only means for preserving peace is like thinking of surgery as the only means of preserving health.—Henry L. Sumson.

Nowadays, as more than once in the history of the church, we are confronted with a world which in a large measure has almost fallen back into paganism.—Pope Pius XI.

Even with my God-given sense of rhythm and flair for phrasing I wouldn't have amounted to anything if I hadn't worked hard.—Rudy Vallee.

When Clowny took an ear in hand the native said, "You had better stand. It is hard to steer while sitting down, so hop up to your feet. Then I will tell you what to do and soon the stunt will come to you. It doesn't take much practice till you learn how, very neat."

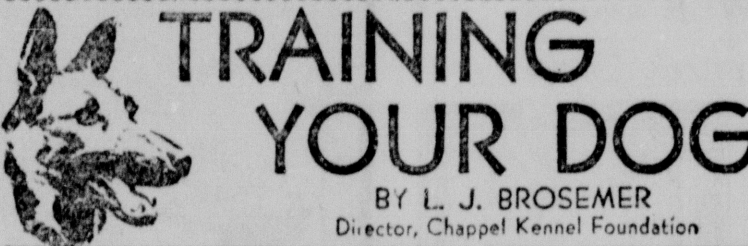

Poor Clowny. As he did as told, he lost his balance and his hold and almost fell into the sea. The bunch on shore just roared. A native took a sudden chance and he grabbed the youngster by the pants. He pulled him back into the boat and quickly he was floored.

The native then said, "Well my son, that's not the way that steering's done. You'd better just sit very still. We'll ride you around a bit." They paddled here and padded there. "Twas wondrous, in the cooling air. And Clowny, still a bit afraid, was tickled just to sit. And then the others had their turn. At nightfall Scouty said, "I yearn to take another boat ride. Let's leave here at break of dawn." "All right," replied the Travel Man. "I'll make arrangements so we can. By noon tomorrow, my little lad, I will promise we'll be gone."

That night they all slept very well and found the Travel Man was ready and he shouted, with a smile, "Please hurry, boys, and follow me. We're going to sail across the sea. The next place we are going to stop is Galapagos Isle."

The reached the island after they had had a very fine trip through the day. The first thing that the Tynmites spied was quite a wondrous beach. They went in wading. My, it was clear. Then Clowny shouted "Oh, look here! A funny bird is trailing me." It was a booby bird.

(The Tynmites see some sea lions in the next story.)

Where else can you get as much fun, companionship, devotion and real true loyalty as from a dog, whether he be a show winner or just a dog?

For the growing boy or girl, a puppy is an ideal possession; the fact that the dog looks up to the child trustingly and obediently causes the child to play the part of the leader and master and to be worthy of his confidence.

All the things we have talked about in the previous articles of this series should be gone over often, but not too often at a time. Leave just a minute or two between attempts. Do not tire the dog; do not attempt to go through too many lessons in one period. Two or three commands each day are sufficient. But stop work only on a successful performance. After a time the dog will realize that he must keep at it until he succeeds.

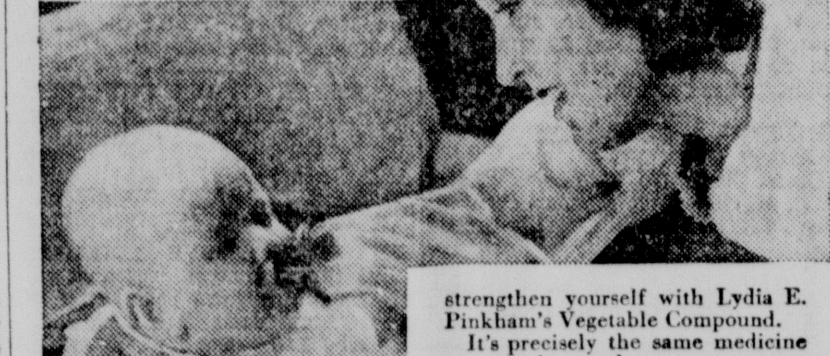

There is no particular value or virtue in the words of command we have chosen. You can teach your dog to get down when you say "Up" and to get up when you command "Down." Choose a word for each act and always use it. And whether your dog speaks English, German, or Turkish, he will understand you. We have had the command of "Down" for lying down. We now have the command "Sit," when we wish the dog to sit on his haunches. Take hold of Spot by the collar with one hand and with the other press on his loins while commanding "Sit." Press slightly on the loins, that portion of the body directly before the hind legs.

Most dogs, such as Terriers, like to jump, and it is comparatively easy to teach them to do so. Place a stick on the floor, with one end against the wall. Snap the fingers, hold some morsel of food in the hand, and tempt the dog across the stick. Command "Jump" each time. Raise the stick about an inch and repeat the process; then raise the stick another inch or two, and so on.

Prevent the dog from going around the ends of the stick or underneath. And do not make him fearful by having him jump on a hard or slippery floor. Later, you can use your arms for a barrier. Jumping over walls and high bar-

CHINA DECLARES WAR
On August 14, 1917, China declared war on Germany and Austria. Six months previous, the United States invited China to follow its example in protesting against Germany's submarine campaign. The Chinese foreign office soon thereafter sent a warning to Germany, and on March 14 broke off diplomatic relations.

Premier Tuan Chi-jui wished China to go to war against Germany but members of the Parliament, aroused at rumors of secret agreements between Tuan's group and Japan, held back. The premier was later ousted.

Tuan later resumed the premiership with enhanced prestige and power by leading an army to Peking, ostensibly to defend the republic. Tuan and his supporters, now being in control of the North, carried through their purpose which had precipitated the crisis, and formally declared war on Germany.

JOHN M. HARRIS, EDITOR OF THE TAMAQUA (PA.) EVENING COURIER, SAYS:

THAT the motor trucks, while providing a more modern vehicle of transportation, are gradually eating away the vitals of our model railroad system of the country and unless there is some definite pretense of regulation, both Federal and the State, the entire railroad structure of the country is going to collapse.

Grades the newspapers of the country soon realize their obligation in this respect and take up the battle of the railroads to at least give them a fair break with motor transportation, this country, instead of advancing with advanced transportation is going to slip back a hundred years in economic development.

Railroads must provide their own right-of-way, maintain it, pay big state taxes, charge a rate that suits the Interstate Commerce Commission, work its men eight hours a day at a union set-rate. Motor trucks use our state-built roads, pay a measly motor truck license fee of approximately $150 a year for a dual-wheel blunderbus, that monopolizes the road and endangers the lives of pleasure motorists, pay no state tax, can work its employees 24 hours a day if the trip requires it, at any rate of wages, and accept business at any old rate.

And we sit by believing we are a wonderfully made nation and allow one of our greatest institutions to

If we are a nation that loves fair play, then let us make the motor truck submit to the same exacting requirements we do the railroads, and then let the best man win!

Diary Marked Man Gives Police Clue

SACRAMENTO, Calif., Aug. 14 (UP)—When Ram Pande, Hindu student at the University of California, learned last spring that mysterious foes who had killed a dozen of his countrymen were prepared to strike him down, he wrote a diary.

He was kidnapped and beheaded, but the diary, police said had led them to Basant Singh, hunted as the master mind in a murder ring and efforts were under way to extradite him from Vancouver, B. C.

When police could not solve repeated killings of Hindus in central California, Ram Pande, a young student, offered to aid.

He had himself fingerprinted and carefully kept a record of his investigations. A few days after he was fingerprinted, the youth was kidnapped and decapitated. His body was found in a slough last March.

It's different, this smooth, creamy garnish for the salad... it's different as can be! Because Elgin Mayonnaise is made of the egg yolk only, instead of the whole egg as so many brands of mayonnaise are, it will keep longer, keep fresher, keep sweeter! In fact, the golden sunny color and the distinctive, delicious flavor of this favorite mayonnaise never varies.

Baseball Gossip

New York, Aug. 14.—(UP)—The old baseball axiom about a team being no stronger than its reserves is strengthened by the 1931 performances of the Philadelphia Athletics and St. Louis Cardinals.
Much of the credit for the success of the two teams belongs to reserves who were given little consideration in pre-season forecasts and both Connie Mack of the Athletics and Gabby Street of the Cardinals admit that it was the reserve players who have made their success possible.

The Athletics have had one or more reserves in their lineup almost since the season started and at the present time three of the eight regular position are being filled by reserve players.
Despite the frequent lead in the American League race. Yesterday with three rookies—Cramer, Williams and McNair—in the lineup the Athletics defeated Detroit, 5 to 2, and increased their margin over the second place Washington Senators to 11 games. Rube Walberg held the Tigers to four hits.

Win Regular Berths
St. Louis a's has been forced to use substitutes frequently and two new men, centerfielder Martin and first baseman Collins, have won regular berths.

Bottomley and Sparky Adams, who made five hits in five times at bat, led the Cards' attack in yesterday's 8 to 5 triumph over Brooklyn—a victory which enabled St. Louis to stretch its lead to 9½ games.

The Chicago Cubs lost the National League runner-up berth when they lost a 4 to 3 decision to the Philadelphia Phillies and dropped one point behind the New York Giants.
New York climbed to second place by defeating Pittsburgh, 6 to 1, in the second game of a doubleheader after losing the first contest, 7 to 5. Heavy hitting by Tony Cuccinello gave Cincinnati a double triumph over Boston, 17 to 3, and 4 to 2.
Washington, runner-up to Philadelphia in the American League, lost its second consecutive game in Chicago, 10 to 8.
A six run rally in the third inning gave St. Louis a 9 to 6 triumph over the Boston Red Sox in the other American League game.

SUCCESS IN MAKING MAYONNAISE LIES IN WAY OIL IS ADDED

"A Little at a Time" is Safest Method. Hills Bros. Use a Similar Rule in Their Patented, Coffee-Roasting Process

Oil, in large amounts, added to mayonnaise ingredients usually makes the mixture separate. It is better to add oil "a little at a time."
There is a similar situation in coffee roasting. Occasionally, big batches can be roasted so each has the same flavor. But you can't depend on it. The sure way is to roast a little at a time. Hills Bros. do, with their patented, Controlled Roasting process.
As the accuracy of the hour-glass depends upon an even, continuous flow... a little at a time... so the uniform flavor of Hills Bros. Coffee is produced by this patented process that roasts evenly, continuously... a little at a time. The temperature is exactly regulated while the blend flows through the roasters. Every single berry is perfectly roasted. Naturally, then, every pound has the perfect flavor!
Hills Bros. Coffee is packed in vacuum cans that keep it fresh! Air, which makes coffee go stale, is removed and kept out of these cans. Even ordinary, "air-tight" cans won't keep coffee fresh. Order Hills Bros. Coffee today. Ask for it by name, and look for the Arab trademark on the can.

ment and employees of the city street department, opposed the barbers in a game played before a large and enthusiastic gathering of fans at the Kiwanis play-ground last evening. The city team won the seven inning contest by a score of 12 to 11. The feature of the game was the fielding of Bill Ford for the chin scrappers. The city employees are now planning on a game, the proceeds from which will be donated to the Goodfellow fund. Jim Bales pitched for the barbers and "Lefty" Pordyce twirled for the city team.

Hole In Windpipe
To Save Boy's Life
Los Angeles, Aug. 13—(UP)—Apparently dead after he had choked on a bean which lodged in his throat, Edward Venegas, 5, was saved when police surgeons cut a hole in his windpipe and revived him by artificial respiration.
His brother ran into the house crying: "Eddie swallowed a bean and is all blue!"
The child was nearly unconscious when the father rushed out. A police ambulance speeded 30 blocks to the boy's home and on the way to the hospital, in the swaying, speeding car, Police Surgeon A. D. Trotter worked desperately to dislodge the bean, but without success.
Eddie appeared to be dead when he reached the hospital, but Surgeon John E. Kirkpatrick made a quick incision in his throat, two more doctors applied artificial respiration, and in a few minutes the child breathed normally.
While awaiting another operation to remove the bean, Eddie breathed today through a silver tube placed in the incision in his windpipe.

Bowling Season To Open Here Saturday

Bowling activities will again be resumed at the Dixon Recreation, 118 E. First street, on Saturday night when Phil Troyk, former Chicago bowler and member of the Baby Ruth team of that city, and his Morris Recreation team will appear on the local alleys in a match game with the Dixon Recreation.

The alleys have been completely resurfaced by experts representing the Brunswick Balke Collander Co., and are in the best of condition. The bowling parlors have been remodeled and redecorated and represent a vast improvement. New velvet drapes also add to the beauty of the large room.

The Dixon Recreation affords good seating capacity and spectators are always welcome; a good crowd of rooters always adds to the interest taken by bowlers in a match game. The Morris team will be accompanied by a delegation of fans of which there are plenty in Morris.

The bowling alleys have remained open in Morris during the entire summer season and the Morris squad have had plenty of practice. The Dixon team will be: Frank Cleary, Lawrence Poole, John Lange, Ed Detweiler and Ed Worley.

Stranded Performers In Circus Will Wed

Washington Aug. 14 (UP)—Two Indian troupers of the stranded 101 Ranch Wild West Circus are going to be married to the tune of crackling cowboy whips, while the "aimless wonder" shaves a man with his toes.

The wedding will be part of a benefit for the 400 performers and roustabouts who haven't been paid for five weeks. But it will be a real wedding.

Grace Osage, 18, daughter of Chief

No Hair and Mother Youngbird Osage, and Clark Trammell, Pottowatami brave, planned to be married at the close of the show season. They hadn't figured the season would end with them 2,000 miles from home and broke, but they will be married anyway.

Rockford Ex-Convict Arrested For Holdup

Kewanee, Ill., Aug. 13—(AP)—Earl A. Hapgood, 25, Rockford ex-convict, was arrested today and charged with participation in the $1,057 robbery of the Ideal Loan Company office here yesterday.

The police trailed him all night and cornered him in a hideout. He denies connection with the robbery.

when taken to the loan company's office this morning. Three men took part in the robbery. They bound the cashier, Anna Wolters, and escaped in an automobile.

Drier This Year Than Last: Crops Improved

Washington, Aug. 14—(AP)—Paradoxical as it may seem, it has been drier this year than last when drought swept the country and crops are faring decidedly better.

The answer is, J. B. Kincer, weather Bureau meteorologist said, there has been a more even distribution of moisture through the growing months.

Records show only a few states have had as much rain this year as in 1930.

This year and 1930 differ mainly,

Kincer pointed out, in that a year ago rainfall was heavy during January and February after which the drought set in. The situation was reversed this year, with January and February being extremely dry. Beginning in March rainfall came frequently but not in substantial quantities. They were, however, sufficient to prevent a repetition of widespread drought. For the first half of 1931, Illinois was 79 per cent of normal, against 87 per cent in 1930.

It is estimated that there are 790,500 families in Chicago, constituting all but 235,000 of the 3,390,000 population.

Two Meet Death In Train Derailed

Greenview, Ill., Aug. 13—(AP)—An unidentified Mexican was killed and the body of a Negro was believed buried in the wreckage, when sixteen cars of a north bound Chicago & Alton freight train were derailed near here early today.

Members of the train crew, in charge of Conductor Crane escaped injury. Three hundred feet of track was torn up, which it was said would block the line for twelve hours. A wrecker from Bloomington was brought here to start repairs.

A broken rail was believed the cause of the accident.

Illustration of a person eating bread

Hot breads are tempting. But often they lack roughage. The absence of bulk from foods often results in constipation.
But now you can have hot breads with roughage. Simply add a cupful of Kellogg's ALL-BRAN to the recipe. This delicious cereal furnishes the bulk needed to assure proper elimination. You will find many appetizing recipes on the red-and-green ALL-BRAN package.
Equally tempting as a ready-to-eat cereal with milk or cream. Two tablespoonfuls daily are guaranteed to prevent and relieve both temporary and recurring constipation. In severe cases, use with each meal.
ALL-BRAN also furnishes needed iron for the body. At all grocers. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Do You Remember

One Year Ago Today—Big Bill Tilden

Tilden stomped off the tennis courts in a rage at the Westchester Country Club as fans raved him in his losing match with Cliff Sutter, Tulane University tennis star. Tilden had lost the first set 6-1 and was losing the second.

Five Years Ago Today—Wilbur (Junior) Coen

Coen of Kansas City took the national boys' singles championship in tennis west of the Mississippi for the first time in the history of the event. Coen gained his victory over Sidney B. Wood, Jr., of Forest Hills in the final match by 6-2, 6-1 scores.

Ten Years Ago Today—Brooklyn's mudhorses were too good for Boston's in a National League game at Fenway Field. Keeping clean, the Brooklyn record of no postponed Sunday games since Sunday ball was legalized. The Flatbush team won 3 to 2.

Louis, champions of Missouri, and the South Chicago nine, representing Illinois, took the field today to decide the regional American Legion Junior baseball winner. Chicago Club swamped Highland Park, Iowa, 15 to 0.

Today's winner will play in the All-Western tournament at Colorado, Springs, Colo.

Culver, Ind., Aug. 14—(UP)—The National Junior tennis championships entered the semi-finals today with William Doeg, Santa Monica, Calif., paired against Jay Cohn, fellow townsman; and Henry Holden, Houston, Tex., matched against Jack Lynch, Taft, Calif.

In the quarter-finals, Doeg defeated Kendall Cram, Nashville, Tenn., 1-6, 6-2; Cohn defeated Hal Sarace, Kansas City, 6-4, 3-6, 6-4; Holden defeated Ramey Donovan, New York, 6-4, 2-6, 7-5; and Lynch defeated Nelson McIninch, Kansas City, 7-5, 6-4.

In the boys' singles Gene Mako, Los Angeles, met Gilbert Hunt, Washington, D. C., and Frank Parker, Milwaukee, opposed Ramsay Potts, Memphis, Tenn.

Sports Parade

By HENRY McELMORE

United Press Staff Correspondent.

New York Aug. 14—(UP)—Major

Miserable showing in the Saracac handicap on Wednesday not only furnished another example of why all horse players must die broke and all bookies spend their last days in the squalid surroundings of a pent house; it also added another defeat to the already sizeable string of setbacks suffered by the "Big Five" this season.

By the "Big Five" we mean Twenty Grand, Mate, Sun Beau, Jameson and Equipoise; those horses who have managed to hold the racing spotlight all season.

Each of these stars has taken it or the nose from inferior horses at least twice this year. Before being run into the ground by an ordinary field in the Saracac, Mate had run third to Sweep All's second in the Kentucky Derby.

Twenty Grand, after a magnificent start in the Wood Memorial, took Mate's dust in the Preckness and was beaten out for second money in the Arlington Classic by Spanish Play.

Sun Beau, the world's greatest money winner, has had no easy time of it, either. Sun Beau could do no better than fifth in the Agua Caliente Handicap, and only last week was beaten to the tape in the Hawthorne Handicap by Plucky Play.

Equipoise, the leading juvenile money winner of 1930, will go down as the year's biggest disappointment. Favored to win the Preckness and Derby, Equipoise started his campaign as a three-year-old by running last in the Chesapeake at Havre de Grace.

Jameson, like Twenty Grand, looked like a world beater in his first big start. He won the Withers in tremendous fashion and came up to the Belmont just as well as Twenty Grand. But the best he could do was run third in a three horse race. He was beaten out for place by Sun Meadow, a nag who ran seventh in the Withers.

What do all these ups and downs of the big boys mean? Nothing, save that horse racing, like all other sports, can't hope to produce a champion who can take on all comers, under any and all conditions, more than once in a generation.

When Twenty Grand followed his magnificent work in the Derby with a smashing win in the Belmont, handfuls of the experts who went overboard for the big Whitney colt, calling him another Man o' War.

Twenty Grand is a sweet horse, and looked like twenty million in a couple of races, but he never has and probably never will see the day when he can pick 'em up and lay 'em down like Big Red.

When Twenty Grand goes to the post there is always some doubt as to the winner. When they wound Big Red up and sent him out, there is all over but the shouting. It all boils down to the fact that Man o' War was a champion and being a champion didn't care whether it was hot or cold, wet or dry, Monday or Tuesday. All he asked for was a starting point, a judges' stand and somebody up there in the saddle to stop him when it was all over.

The work of the experts in tagging Twenty Grand as another Man o' War was not surprising. Baseball experts have called half a dozen youngsters as potential Cobbs only to see them go back to the Three B's.

Man o' War was a champion and being a champion didn't care whether it was hot or cold, wet or dry, Monday or Tuesday. All he asked for was a starting point, a judges' stand and somebody up there in the saddle to stop him when it was all over.

The work of the experts in tagging Twenty Grand as another Man o' War was not surprising. Baseball experts have called half a dozen youngsters as potential Cobbs only to see them go back to the Three B's.

(BEGIN HERE TODAY)

LIANE BARRETT, IS and beautiful, tries in vain to forget VAN ROBERT when his engagement is announced to MERED. LAID, popular debutante. Liane's mother, CASS BARRETT, is an actress and it is during Cass's engagement party at a fashionable Long Island summer colony that the Barrett met Mrs. CLIVE PAUGH, wealthy widow. When Cass goes on tour in the fall Liane becomes Mrs. Clive's secretary. CLIVE CHENAPPAUGH, the widow's only son, asks Liane to marry him. Clive cannot inherit his father's fortune and becomes ill before he is 25. Liane accepts, agreeing the marriage is to be a matter of form only.

TRESSA, Liane's jealous friend, tries to make trouble for her. Tressa convinces unnecessarily Liane of her own worth. Later, Liane is kidnapped but rescued by McDERMID and Clive.

Liane and Clive are married, and a honeymoon in the south and then return north. Muriel comes with CHUCK DESMOND, newspaper reporter. Liane and Muriel encounter Robert on the street. He begs her to go abroad with him. She confides in him and leaves with him.

Liane is killed in an automobile accident. Liane is overpowered by a mob of cut-throats and flees to New Jersey town where she finds work. Half-sister herself and becomes ill. She recovers and with health comes the knowledge of the deep love she has for Clive. Believing Clive cares for Tressa and considering his happiness above her own, she suggests a divorce.

Liane's mother should be as she wishes. Tressa comes to visit her. She declares Liane has lost her heart.

(NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY) CHAPTER XLV

TO be young is to be impatient. Tomorrow will not do. It must be today! Liane, thrashing about for a solution to her difficulties, was minded to go to Clive and show her cards. She wanted to say, "Shall we make a clean break of it? I think we'd better. We can't go on this way."

Liane scarcely knew what held her back from this move because as the days passed and Tressa's air of proprietorship over Clive deepened her agony increased. She said to herself, "This is unendurable. Anything would be better than this."

But because she had suffered greatly in the past year she temporized. She watched and waited, by turns despairing and then hopeful.

The day Tressa drove into town with Clive Liane endured agonies of jealousy. The worst of it was that she had no right to resent her. Four months ago, she had said to Clive, "I love someone else." She had expected sympathy and understanding. She had not stopped to wonder how he might be hurt.

"I've learned a lot about love," Liane mused sadly. "I may make a great many mistakes in the future but never the same ones again."

Muriel came out that day for tea. She was a gay and bright-eyed Muriel in a red cap and coat and bristled at her head like Robin redbreast himself.

They talked of nothing and of everything as they sipped their tea. Liane found Muriel watching her curiously. The other girl blurted out suddenly, "Don't think me a busy-body, but I must tell you everybody's talking about the dead plague. It's all right, then?" If she had been in position to do so she would have stamped her foot at this. Must be reassured when he had been out phillandering? In exasperation she cried, "Yes, it's all right."

She wished he would go away before she started to weep. Instead he came a step nearer. "What's that you're reading?"

She held the book out at arm's length. "Awkwardly he said, 'Teasdale. Some of that's awfully good. Didn't know you liked it or I might have got you some of the others.'"

She caught at the folds of lace falling across her young breast. Tears stung at the back of her eyes. Clive looked at the page she had marked. She knew the words by heart. There was something unbearably poignant about them:

"Oh, there are eyes that he can see, And hands to make his hands rejoice, But to my lover I must be Only a voice."

"Oh, there are eyes that he can see, And hands to make his hands rejoice, But to my lover I must be Only a voice."

COLUMBUS, OHIO
SCENE OF NOVEL
NEWSPAPER WARProbate Judge Is Also Involved In Controversy There

Columbus, O., Aug. 14 (UP)—A political controversy involving the private life of a Probate Judge, developed today into a newspaper price-cutting "war" which was attracting the attention of publishers throughout the country.

Early editions of the Columbus Dispatch carried a cartoon without explanation—announcing a reduction in price to one cent a copy in Franklin County. A similar cartoon had appeared on two previous days, without reason for the price cut.

No move had been made today by the Columbus Citizen, its competitor, to meet the reduction, which the Citizen termed in its editorial columns uneconomic and "contrary to good journalistic judgment."

Meanwhile men and women were flocking to the office of the Citizen to sign a formal complaint requesting the removal of Probate Judge Homer Z. Bostwick, subject of a newspaper story which the Citizen had published and which, it claims, the Dispatch had refused to publish following Bostwick's appeal to that newspaper for "protection."

In a signed statement, Harry P. Wolfe, owner of the Dispatch, admitted that Judge Bostwick had appealed to him for protection.

In the midst of the political dispute, the Dispatch suddenly cut its price to one cent, action which led the Citizen to charge that the owners of the Dispatch were attempting to "crush" the Citizen.

The Citizen announced today that more than 2,000 persons had signed coupons requesting the ousting of Judge Bostwick. A total of 1,000 signatures is all that is necessary, under the law, to bring the removal request before the Common Pleas Court.

Former Dry Seeking Nomination As Wet

Petersburgh, Ill., Aug. 14 (UP)—Modification of the Volstead Act so that every American who desires it "can have a drink of cool beer" is proposed in the platform of James (High Heels) Kirby, farmer and a former legislator, who announced his candidacy for the Democratic vice presidential nomination here today.

Kirby, who has been a perennial candidate for public office ever since the first time as a wet. In his last campaign he was defeated for the Democratic Senatorial nomination by James Hamilton Lewis.

"I have always been a dry, but I am sure now that the Volstead law is too drastic and can never be enforced," he stated.

"Therefore I am in favor of an amendment which will allow four per cent beer to be sold through the Post Office Department."

"Four per cent beer would eliminate the bootlegger and the Anti-Saloon League, both of which are a detriment to the United States."

Four Drowned When Their Sedan Upset

Toledo, O., Aug. 14 (AP)—Trapped inside a small sedan when it plunged into Swan creek near here last night, three women and a man were drowned while five young men who witnessed the accident made frantic efforts to save them. A fifth occupant of the car, Mrs. Lucille Yenore, 23, Lakeside, Mich., was saved, but was in a critical condition when taken to a hospital.

The dead were Joseph, Keogh, 40, driver of the car, Mrs. Joseph Keogh Toledo; and Julia Huber, 27, of Lafayette, Ind.

Astronomers Could Not Count Meteors

Washington, Aug. 13 (AP)—Overcast skies last night prevented astronomers of the United States Naval Observatory from viewing the Perseids, the shower of cosmic dust through which the earth passes each August.

They will be forced to postpone for another year their efforts to chart the positions of the streaks of light that appear in the night sky when the dust particles are heated to incandescence by the friction of the earth's atmosphere. Officials at the observatory said the best nights for observing the Perseids had passed, although the earth will continue to move through the dust cloud until Saturday.

By charting the position of the Perseids, astronomers hope to check the theory that they are moving in the orbit of Tuttle's comet, which was last seen in 1862 and is scheduled to make its next appearance about 1944, it was explained at the observatory. The stream of the Perseids is estimated to be about 30 million miles wide, and the particles are believed to be traveling at approximately 40 miles per second.

Tiskilwa Will Get
Road Early In 1932

Springfield, Ill., Aug. 13 (UP)—Survey of six miles of road between route 89 and Tiskilwa, Bureau county, this year with a view to building a concrete highway over it will be made within a few weeks by the Department of Public Works and Building, it was announced here today by H. H. Cleveland, department director.

Cleveland's announcement follows the visit of a delegation from Bureau county yesterday, who asked Cleveland that the road be surveyed immediately so that a paving project may be included in the earliest possible letting.

Cleveland said that a survey will take several weeks precluding the possibility of the project being undertaken this year. It is expected to be included in the early part of next year's program.

Boy Absolved Of
Death Of Brother

Matteson, Ill., Aug. 13 (AP)—A coroner's jury today decided that the death of Darrel Carl, 8, was accidental after hearing 12-year-old William Carl tell how a rifle was discharged while the two were playing "Indian and cowboy."

William had disappeared after the shooting yesterday and was found early today sleeping in a railroad station. He said he did not know he had killed his young brother but that he was "scared" when he saw him and saw blood.

Killed Blind Man,
Then Shot Himself

Rock Island, Aug. 13 (UP)—Two men were found dead on a Mississippi river island today in what authorities believed was a murder and suicide.

The victims were Louis Sehnert, 69-year-old blind brother of Police Chief Herman Sehnert and William Blum, who lived with him in a house on Big Island.

The blind man apparently had died of a blow on the head. Blum's body was on a bed, a shotgun charge in the head.

Authorities learned that the pair quarreled frequently and believed that Blum had committed suicide after beating Sehnert with the stock of the shotgun.
